But the best way to find one is to get out and walk. Especially in the summer months, it's much easier to see a ghost town than to find one just by driving by. Here's how to do it. If you know where a ghost town is located, you can go check it out any time. But what if you don't know where it is? You could make a list of the closest towns, drive to every location on your list, and visit them all. Or, you could just go to a ghost town guide first to see which one sounds the most interesting to you. How to Find a Ghost Town Go to a ghost town guide The Ghost Towns Foundation, created in 1946, is a non-profit organization that not only oversees tours of the country's ghost towns, but also is dedicated to preserving them for future generations. The foundation offers several different tours, including ones in Arizona and Utah, but they also have several others to choose from. Choose which one sounds the most interesting to you. If you like ghost towns, you might want to look into the Ozark Mountain Mountain Queen 0cc13bf012
