The Kawasaki Ninja 750 comes from the bikes design to represent a more refined version of the ZX series. The W200 shares the bikes superbly handling, smooth riding and exceptional power. But it also has an added benefit, a more fuel-efficient engine. The Kawasaki Ninja 750 is a great bike for the nature enthusiast and the outdoorsman. It has a maximum speed of 115 mph and a maximum range of 250 miles. I chose the W650 on looks and riding position. I was looking for a standard that looked like a retro cruiser and found it in the W650. A dream to ride at low speeds. Thifty to maintain. Lots of comments by other riders and passers by. Hates speed; scary wobble at high speeds. Orphaned by Kawasaki USA right when it could have gotten its foothold (few aftermarket parts available in the USA). I wish that Kawasaki would bring it back to the USA with more power and less wobble. If they don't I'm buying a Triumph Thruxton... soon! Classic Vertical Twins really grow on you. A semi-double-cradle frame that is highly rigid and contributes to the W175's unhurried handling character. The semi-double cradle configuration is a product of function and form. It also complements retro styling and its simple design allowing for customization. The W175 follows in the footsteps of Kawasaki's other authentic retro models, with a traditional, simple design. And, with the materials and fit-and-finish of a machine in a higher class, the W175 stands out from the crowd. Expected price of this motorcycle will be Rs. 2.35 lakhs to Rs. 2.45 lakhs. The W series has a long history that dates back more than 50 years. W1, the first bike in this series, was introduced in 1966. Continuing on that theme, the Kawasaki W175 has an appealing old-school profile with features like a round headlamp and rearview mirrors, fork gaiters, a teardrop-shaped fuel tank, quilted single-piece saddle, and wire-spoke wheels. Ebony and Special Edition Red will be the two colour options. While the former is essentially an all-black theme, the latter is a red and black dual-tone colour option. The majority of the components in both have been blacked out, including the front suspension, headlight casing, engine, swingarm, and exhaust pipe.
